Bugzi is a micro powered wheelchair for children aged 1-6 years, who have little or no mobility.

Bugzi is about discovery, exploring, learning and helping children to grow as people. Mobility is a fundamental aspect of human nature and starts in the first year of life. We need it to investigate, touching and tasting everything we find, interacting with people, objects and the space around us.

Bugzi is designed to enable non-mobile children to have more of these vital formative experiences. It gives them independence and places them at a level where they can play with other children and the objects and spaces of the child's world.

Our objective is to offer a Bugzi free of charge to the family as part of our loan scheme. Each child is assessed by an occupational therapist to ensure their specific requirements are met. We currently have 70 in the loan scheme.
